

STATISTICAL PRESS NOTICE
MONTHLY DELAYED TRANSFERS OF CARE DATA, ENGLAND, October 2017

Main Findings – October 2017:

Delayed Transfers of Care

- There were 170,100 total delayed days in October 2017, of which 110,100 were in acute care. This is a decrease from October 2016, where there were 200,100 total delayed days, of which 134,200 were in acute care.
- The 170,100 total delayed days in October 2017 is equivalent to 5,487 daily DTOC beds. This compares to 5,609 in September 2017 and 6,455 in October 2016. This is the lowest number of DTOC beds since March 2016, when the number of DTOC beds was 5,480.
- 57.1% of all delays in October 2017 were attributable to the NHS, 35.3% were attributable to Social Care and the remaining 7.6% were attributable to both NHS and Social Care.
- The proportion of delays attributable to Social Care has increased over the last year to 35.3% in October 2017, compared to 34.9% in October 2016.
- The main reason for NHS delays in October 2017 was “Patients Awaiting further Non Acute NHS Care”. This accounted for 27,700 delayed days (28.5% of all NHS delays). The number of delays attributable to this reason showed a general increase between July 2015 and April 2016, before levelling off for several months. Following a large decrease in April 2017, the number remained relatively stable until August 2017, when it saw a further decrease.
- The main reason for Social Care delays in October 2017 was “Patients Awaiting Care Package in their Own Home”. This accounted for 20,900 delayed days (34.8% of all Social Care delays), compared to 25,500 in October 2016. The number of delays attributable to this reason had been increasing steadily since February 2015 and reached a peak in December 2016. Delays attributable to this reason have been gradually decreasing since March 2017.
- Delays can occur in either an acute or non-acute care setting. The proportion of delays occurring in acute care in October 2017 was 64.8% compared to 67.1% in October 2016.

Table 1 shows information on delayed transfers of care from October 2014 to October 2017.

Table 2 shows the number of delayed transfers of care by type of care, reason for delay and responsible organisation for October 2017.

All	Total	97,155	60,071	12,863

Notes:

1. NA means the combination of reason and responsible organisation is not permitted.
2. As of April 2017, a new 'Other' category has been added for non-acute delays. This category is used for delays reported in NHS Digital's Mental Health Services Data Set (MHSDS v2.0) which cannot be mapped to existing codes within the NHS England Delayed Transfers of Care collection.

Table 3 – Revisions to Delayed Transfers of Care September 2017

In line with NHS England policy, revisions were made to published data from September 2017. Although the effect of these revisions at national level is minimal, the impact of revisions at local authority level was deemed significant enough to warrant a revision outside of the usual revisions cycle for this collection.

Month	Total Delayed Days
	Previous	Revised
September 2017	168,302	168,256

Statistical Notes to Editors

1. Delayed Transfers of Care data

A delayed transfer of care occurs when a patient is medically fit for discharge from acute or non-acute care and is still occupying a bed. For a more detailed definition please read the guidance on NHS England's website at:
<http://www.england.nhs.uk/statistics/delayed-transfers-of-care/>

The daily DTOC beds measure is calculated by dividing the total number of delayed days in the month by the number of calendar days.

As of April 2017, the count of patients delayed on the last Thursday of the month is no longer being collected. Historical data for this measure will remain available on the NHS England Statistics website.

Data on delayed transfers of care is collected from providers of NHS funded care and is split by:

- Local Authority that is responsible for each patient delayed
- Agency responsible for delay (NHS, Social Services or both)
- Type of care that the patient receives (acute or non-acute)
- Reason for delay

A detailed breakdown of the data can be found on NHS England's website in CSV format at:

<https://www.england.nhs.uk/statistics/statistical-work-areas/delayed-transfers-of-care/delayed-transfers-of-care-data-2017-18/>

2. Trust and Local Authority level data

Delayed transfers of care data covers NHS patients in English Hospitals, who may or may not reside in England and is published on both a trust and Local Authority basis.

Trust level reflects data at organisation level for those organisations that provide NHS funded care, for example acute Trusts, community providers, mental health trusts and Social Enterprise organisations.

Local Authority data reflects data on a regional population basis, i.e. Councils with Adult Social Services Responsibility (CASSRs) that are responsible for all patients who reside in their region.

3. Data Quality

Monthly delayed transfers of care data has been collected and published since August 2010. Prior to August 2010, data was collected weekly and was un-validated management information.

Delayed transfers of care data published during the early months of the collection from August 2010 to October 2010 should be treated with a degree of caution as a change from a weekly to a monthly data collection led to data quality issues. Since October 2010, there has been a significant improvement in the coverage and accuracy of this data.

4. Data Availability

Delayed Transfers of Care data is published approximately six weeks after the end of the reference period. The next publication of this report and accompanying data will be 11th January, 2018.

5. Revisions

Revisions to previous month's data are made in line with NHS England's revisions protocol for performance monitoring data. Future revisions will be made on a six monthly cycle. The revisions protocol can be found on the NHS England website at: <http://www.england.nhs.uk/statistics/code-compliance/>
