

Integrated Urgent Care Aggregate Data Collection March 2024 (provisional)

The Integrated Urgent Care Aggregate Data Collection (IUC ADC) covers the whole of integrated urgent care services¹. This publication provides a subset of IUC ADC for March 2024. These figures are provisional and should therefore be treated as estimates until the complete IUC ADC Official Statistics for March 2024 are published next month.

Key Facts²

In March 2024:

- An average of more than 64 thousand calls were received by NHS 111 per day.
- 59.7% of those calls were answered in 60 seconds or less; the average time to call answer was 196 seconds.
- The proportion of NHS 111 calls abandoned was 10.6%.
- Of the calls triaged, 11.2% were referred to the Ambulance service and 11.4% were recommended to attend an Emergency Treatment Centre (ETC).

Footnote

¹ From April 2023, some data items in the IUC ADC have been revised and not all data items are directly comparable with data collected previously. Users are advised to refer to the specification guidance for each collection when interpreting figures. Underlying data and further details about the IUC ADC are here.
