Considerations from review by the Rare Disease Advisory Group

The proposal received the support of the Rare Disease Advisory Group on 9th October 2018. Members supported the service specification for ECMO for respiratory failure in adults, noting that the updated service specification contains no material changes and ensures that it is reflective of current practice and improves the quality indicators against which the service is monitored.

Pharmaceutical considerations

Not applicable.

Considerations from review by National Programme of Care

POC Board support:

1) The proposal received the full support of the Trauma Board on the 25th September 2018

Benefit of Service Specification:

This service specification has been updated to ensure that it is reflective of current practice and that appropriate Quality Indicators are in place for the service.

Implementation timescale:

1) Non material amendments and therefore suitable for immediate adoption
