Learning from death reviews (LeDeR) programme

Information about how many people with a learning disability have died from coronavirus

The learning from death reviews (LeDeR) programme is about stopping people with a learning disability dying too soon.

Each week we put a table online to tell people how many people with a learning disability have died from coronavirus. This information has been reported since May.

We know that fewer than 5 people with a learning disability have died from coronavirus this week.

We know that 685 people with a learning disability have died from coronavirus since February.
