The NHS England operating framework: the foundations
On 1 July 2022, Integrated Care Systems (ICSs) were placed on a statutory footing. This brought together the different partner organisations within an ICS – across the NHS and local government, working with the Voluntary, Community and Social Enterprise sector and other partners – to better integrate services and take a more collaborative approach to agreeing and delivering ambitions for the health and wellbeing of their local population.

The establishment of ICSs and the new statutory framework, means that NHS England is changing the way that we work (our operating framework) to best empower and support local system partners to deliver on their responsibilities. This requires a cultural and behavioural shift towards partnership-based working; creating NHS policy, strategy, priorities and delivery solutions with national partners and with system stakeholders; and giving system leaders the agency and autonomy to identify the best way to deliver agreed priorities in their local context.

As NHS England, we will focus on what we are uniquely placed to do as a national organisation, increasingly using our resources to provide practical support to colleagues within systems, in order to deliver on the commitments outlined in the NHS Long Term Plan annual planning guidance, the mandate from government and our statutory responsibilities. We will continue to agree the mandate with government, with input from Integrated Care Boards (ICBs), and then support systems to deliver their part of this. Whilst many of the formal powers and accountabilities that we (or our predecessor national bodies) have held historically will remain broadly the same, it is how we deliver these – the behavioural change - that will be the fundamental difference in future.

This document sets out in more detail how we will work as NHS England and with systems. It outlines our purpose and behaviours, how we will add value, our medium-term priorities and the accountabilities and responsibilities of the different organisations in the NHS, as well as how we will work with our partners across the health and care system. It will inform how we develop as an organisation in order to become more agile and reduce duplication and help the NHS to deliver the priorities identified within the NHS Long Term Plan alongside the actions needed to respond to the pandemic and wider pressures. Regions have been working with their systems to develop ways of working with and in each system to align with the overarching principles of our operating framework and it is intended that this document should further support this. We will continue to evaluate and refine our framework as we implement it.

The operating framework will be a key input into the design of the new NHS England. This will be further developed alongside the operating models and statutory responsibilities of our new partners, Health Education England and NHS Digital, as part of the new NHS England change programme.
What is an operating framework

What is our NHS England operating framework?

- Our operating framework sets out “how we do things around here” – the ways of working that will enable us to deliver our purpose. We previously referred to this as our ‘operating model’ but have changed to ‘framework’ as it sets out the parameters for how we will work in NHS England.

- There are four core foundations to our new operating framework, these include our:
  - Purpose – why we are here
  - Areas of value – how we deliver value
  - Leadership behaviours and accountabilities – how we work
  - Medium-term priorities and long-term aims – what we are working to achieve.

- These foundations in turn underpin how our organisation will be designed and how decisions will be made.

- The focus of this document is on the core foundations of our operating framework and their influence on the structures and our approach to change.

Why do we need to change?

- The changes to our operating framework are part of a cultural reset for the NHS, to reflect the change to system-based approaches to improvement and stronger partnership working.

- There are two main reasons for the change:
  1. The need to work and behave differently following the establishment of ICSs and the new statutory framework.

  2. The proposals to create a new organisation by bringing together NHS England, Health Education England and NHS Digital. This will require us to develop a new culture and structural design. We have established a new NHS England change programme to deliver this, with the operating framework a key part of that programme, alongside the operating models and statutory responsibilities of Health Education England and NHS Digital.
An update on our progress towards developing an operating framework for the new NHS England

To support the changes made in legislation on 1 July 2022, we have been working together as an organisation and with our partners to clarify our role in the new system and how we best deliver our objectives. This document aims to share what we have described to date and work that is yet to be done. Some of these elements, for example, our purpose, have been agreed alongside our new partners Health Education England and NHS Digital, whilst other elements need to continue to be developed together as part of the new NHS England change programme, for example, our behaviours.

The illustration below shows how many elements of our high level operating framework have developed and what we need to do next. Further detail on each element can be accessed by clicking on the topic of interest.

1. Our purpose
2. What we do to add value
3. How we work
4. Delivering our objectives
5. How we will organise ourselves
6. Setting ourselves up for success
7. Making this a reality
8. What to expect next

Delivering our objectives
- Our objectives
- Our required outcomes

Making this a reality
- How this will change the way that we work
- How accountabilities will work in context of our behaviours
- How we will work together

How we will organise ourselves
- Integration with our partners
- High level organogram
Our work to date

- The development of the core foundations of the NHS England operating framework began in 2021, through a series of NHS England and NHS Improvement Executive Group sessions as well as discussions with NHS England and NHS Improvement, Health Education England and NHS Digital Board members.

- In March 2022, we began to seek wider input and have run engagement sessions with almost 300 colleagues both within our organisation and with ICB leaders, provider leaders, local government colleagues and other partners, to capture feedback and refine the operating framework for the new NHS England, supporting the principles of co-creation, inclusivity and collaboration.

- We are now entering the implementation phase, which will focus on embedding these ways of working in all our activities, learning as we are doing this and refining our operating framework further as is needed.

- The operating framework core foundations will be a key input into the design of the new organisation, through the integration of NHS England, Health Education England and NHS Digital.
1. Our purpose

To lead the NHS in England to deliver high-quality services for all.

We will achieve this purpose by:

- enabling local systems and providers to improve the health of their people and patients and reduce health inequalities;
- making the NHS a great place to work, where our people can make a difference and achieve their potential;
- working collaboratively to ensure our healthcare workforce has the right knowledge, skills, values and behaviours to deliver accessible, compassionate care;
- optimising the use of digital technology, research and innovation; and
- delivering value for money.

Our purpose statement, provides clarity on what NHS England is seeking to achieve, this drives both ‘what’ we do (how we add value and what our priorities are) as well as ‘how’ we operate (our values, behaviours and accountabilities, and structures). The purpose statement is agreed between NHS England, Health Education England and NHS Digital and will continue to drive our organisation as part of the new NHS England change programme.
2. What we do to add value

To achieve our purpose, we need to be clear on how we, as NHS England, can deliver value to support the wider health and care system. At NHS England, we will focus our activities on eight key ways that we are uniquely placed to add value. Our organisation; (1) Sets direction; (2) Allocates resources; (3) Ensures accountability; (4) Supports and develops people; (5) Mobilises expert networks; (6) Enables improvement; (7) Delivers services; and (8) Drives transformation.

1: Set direction
- Develop and set national policy and strategy
- Manage relationship with government
- Agree the mandate with government, coordinating input from ICBs
- Determine NHS priorities, subject to the mandate
- Provide thought leadership and subject matter expertise for national priorities
- Provide leadership on NHS contribution to reducing health inequalities

2: Allocate resources
- Work with partners to develop strategy and plans to ensure we have the right workforce capacity across the NHS
- Lead on national workforce innovation
- Set financial structures and incentives
- Be responsible for financial stewardship of the NHS
- Contribute to the UK economy

3: Ensure accountability
- Define accountability structures
- Set standards for performance
- Monitor, assure and hold to account for performance on quality, finance and access
- Assure direct commissioning
- Provide support, guidance and oversight in relation to information processing
- Perform health protection functions

4: Support and develop people
- Establish our leadership culture
- Role model our culture and behaviours
- Create the conditions for a fully inclusive and diverse NHS
- Deliver workforce, training and education functions of Health Education England
- Ensure we have a structured approach to identify leadership talent and support their development

How each of the component parts of NHS England support Integrated Care Systems and providers in their roles

Regions

- Act as the main voice to ICSs and the primary interaction between NHS England and systems
- Translate national strategy and policy to fit local circumstances, ensuring local health inequalities and priorities are addressed
- Agree ‘local strategic priorities’ with individual ICSs
- Provide oversight to ICBs and agree oversight arrangements for place-based systems and organisations
- Develop leadership within ICBs and providers
- Within national frameworks, determine the ‘how’ of delivery to achieve outcomes and expectations to reflect local populations, workforce, service structures and digital capabilities
- Develop mechanisms for systematically collating and sharing good practice and lessons learnt
- Manage regional level relationships including, regional government
- Provide support to ICSs to enable delivery

Integrated Care Systems and Providers
• Create the evidence based strategy for transformation
• Act as a central hub of subject matter expertise that can be drawn down
• Articulate the value of change and suggest the most appropriate approach to implementation
• Help ensure national funding is aligned with agreed goals and develop a national approach to resource deployment
• Set expectations and guidance on data standards so that we can measure progress consistently and coordinate a national view
• Ensure people implications are considered
• Manage the programme specific relationships with external stakeholders, e.g. professional bodies, arms length bodies and national charities
• With regions, facilitate supportive interventions to improve performance and outcomes
• Embed digital and data in our programmes
• Develop guidance to support front line services in transforming services

Integrated Care Systems and Providers
Corporate functions

• Set national strategy, priorities and incentives to improve standards of care and reduce unwarranted variation and create the conditions for a fully inclusive and diverse NHS

• Lead and represent the NHS with Government, and nationally with partners and the public

• Work with government to ensure the NHS has the resources it needs, and allocate resources

• Set national frameworks including the Financial Framework; System Oversight Framework; People Plan; Digital maturity expectations etc.

• Account to HM Treasury and Department of Health and Social Care for delivery, performance and mandate progress

• Foster strategic relationships across national arms length bodies, royal colleges and professional bodies

• Foster productive relationships with trade unions and professional bodies, and lead contract negotiations for primary care providers

• Trigger regulatory intervention when required and run the Recovery Support Programme

• Provide technology architecture and policies, operate backbone systems, set minimum standards (for example, in cyber security and privacy) and promote interoperability and reuse

• Directly commission certain services
3. How we work

Leadership behaviours

To deliver our purpose in the context of system-working will require a new approach not just to ‘what’ we do but in ‘how’ we do it. We have set out on the right 12 leadership behaviours aligned to six key values linked to the NHS Constitution, which can act as a guide for our interactions. As part of the new NHS England change programme between NHS England, Health Education England and NHS Digital, we will work to develop a shared set of behaviours for the new organisation.

By consistently living these behaviours we aim in the new NHS England to:

- Work as ‘one team’ across the NHS (ICBs, providers and NHS England) with our partners, being collaborative and empowering each other – but also being clear about who is accountable for what.
- Seek co-creation and co-ownership of our strategy, priorities and support offers – both within the NHS team and with partners - and demonstrate collaborative leadership.
- Be inclusive and value diversity – make sure that no one feels excluded and listen to all perspectives.
- Work at pace when appropriate and be agile – streamlining how we make decisions, avoiding duplication and multiple layers where we can.
- Learn by doing – acting, evaluating and continuously improving.
- Be transparent and honest – in all our interactions and activities.

Working to improve lives

1. Driven by the people and communities we serve
2. Focussed on clear outcomes

Working as one team

5. Accountability to role and team
6. Trusting and empowering each other

Getting things done

7. Working at pace when appropriate, with agility and courage
8. Being ambitious and can-do

Learning and improving

9. Learning by doing, cycles of change
10. Data-driven and evidence-based

We are inclusive - everyone counts

3. Inclusive and diverse
4. Collaborating, co-producing, co-owning, being a great partner

Compassion and respect

11. Hard on problems and supportive of people
12. Transparent, honest and authentic
The tables below set out the accountabilities and responsibilities for NHS England, ICBs and providers given the changes to legislation and shift to system based working*. Whilst this sets out a form of hierarchy, we expect ways of working to be agreed locally so that collaboration is at the fore of transformation in systems.

This does not capture the full accountability framework for ICSs. The purpose of this document is to set out the operating framework for NHS England and therefore accountabilities and responsibilities are focused on NHS partners.
Accountability (Who do they ‘account’/provide assurance to?)

NHS Providers

Operationally within the NHS:
- ICBs for ‘business as usual’ delivery of services and performance and their agreed contribution to the system strategy & plan
- NHS England national commissioners of specialised services
- NHS England as regulator (with associated statutory powers) - by escalation/exception or agreement with ICB
- Care Quality Commission for leadership, quality and safety of services.

Locally:
- People, communities and service users; all ICS partners; Foundation Trusts to Board of Governors (and members).

Integrated Care Boards

Operationally within the NHS:
- NHS England, via Regional Directors – including for delivery of the outcomes and priorities expressed in the Joint Forward Plans
- NHS England, as regulator (with associated statutory powers)
- Care Quality Commision as part of ICS (not as individual organisations) for leadership, quality, safety and integration of services.

Locally:
- People, communities and service users.

NHS England

Joint plans/contracts

- Parliament, via the Secretary of State
- People, communities and service users.

Memorandum of understanding

- People, communities and service users.

*Detailed agreement on working arrangements between ICBs and NHS England to be set out in Memorandums of Understanding.
Specific legal powers in relation to other bodies (Formal or statutory functions)

NHS Providers
- In relation to other providers and partners, as per contracts, delegation and joint working agreements
- Agree joint 5 year forward plan and joint capital plan with partner ICB.

Integrated Care Boards
- In relation to providers and partners, as per contracts, delegation and joint working agreements
- Agree joint 5 year forward plan and joint capital plan with partner trusts.

NHS England
- Appoint ICB and trust (not Foundation Trust) chairs and Chief Executive Officers
- Establish and annually assess each ICB, agree its constitution and any changes to this and determine its allocations
- Set financial objectives for systems
- Conduct annual assessment of each ICB
- Determine the need for enforcement action with respect to ICBs and providers aligned with Oversight Framework and Enforcement Guidance. Interventions with providers will happen with the awareness of the relevant ICB.
Meeting national accountabilities through systems

How will we meet national accountabilities?

- ICBs are responsible for developing and overseeing the implementation of joint strategies and plans with their partners to meet national commitments, as well as any additional local priorities for health service, social care and public health improvement that are agreed within each ICS strategy and ICB/provider joint forward plan.

- Individual providers are responsible for delivering safe, effective, efficient, high quality services in line with universal required standards and commitments, their statutory duties and their contracts and agreements with ICBs and NHS England, and for delivering any agreed wider contribution to implementing the Integrated Care Partnership strategy and joint-forward plan.

- NHS England is responsible for supporting ICBs, NHS providers and their local partners to deliver their plans and make their full contribution to the ICS strategy, and for intervening if the NHS’s national commitments are at risk or are not being met. NHS England’s approach to supporting performance improvement and delivery (for the purposes of improved health of local populations) will be to set clear objectives, ask system and provider leaders to identify how they will best achieve them in their local context and provide or facilitate access to support where needed to address particular challenges. Solutions and support will draw on evidence of best practice and root-cause analysis, with NHS England contributing as a system partner alongside other local stakeholders.

- NHS England is also responsible to Parliament for NHS performance and has regulatory powers supporting this. Therefore, while we will not determine the day-to-day working relationships between leaders, it is important to be clear on the formal accountability lines between NHS organisations under the new arrangements. These regulatory powers include the ability to intervene and direct both ICBs and NHS providers that are failing or at risk of failing to meet required standards or perform their functions and duties.

NHS Oversight Framework

- Our national approach to ongoing monitoring of progress and performance against universal NHS standards and commitments and agreed local priorities, for identifying support needs and intervening to secure improvement when required is set out in the NHS Oversight Framework.

- The arrangements for applying this within each ICS area will be agreed and set out in a Memorandum of Understanding between each ICB and the relevant NHS England regional team, alongside other details of their agreed ways of working. This will provide clarity of oversight arrangements for each provider, avoiding duplication.
How this will change the way that we work

Many of the formal powers and accountabilities that NHS England (or our predecessor national bodies) have held historically remain broadly the same. It is how we deliver these that will be different – some examples of how we will work are outlined on the right, with specific illustrations of the change on the next page.

- Proportionate and streamlined: ICBs and NHS England will ensure oversight and performance management arrangements within their ICS area are proportionate and streamlined, and do not create duplication or unnecessary bureaucracy and reporting requirements for providers.

- Devolved: For both ICBs and their partner NHS providers the primary relationship with NHS England will be through the relevant regional team.

  - Where national teams need to interact directly with ICBs and NHS providers, this will be done in conjunction with the relevant regional team, to ensure interactions are coordinated.

  - The arrangements between regional teams, ICBs and providers will be agreed locally, and set out in the Memorandum of Understanding. This will be discussed and agreed by all partners in the ICB and will be clearly communicated to partners in the system.

- No surprises: relationships between NHS England, ICBs and providers will be mature, respectful and collegiate, underpinned with effective lines of communication and a ‘one team’ philosophy, so there are ‘no surprises’ regarding the actions of each party.

- ICB annual assessments: NHS England has a duty to annually assess ICBs across a number of domains. The first annual assessment of ICBs will be completed in Q1 23/24 and will use a variety of evidence, but a key part of the process will be ICB self-reflection and dialogue between the ICB and NHS England over the course of the year.
How accountabilities will work in context of our behaviours

Below are examples to illustrate how activities might change as part of the new approach. They show how many of the formal powers and accountabilities remain the same, but how we implement them will be different. It is worth noting that how responsibilities and roles are applied will depend on the circumstances and there will need to be some exceptions to the general rule as we implement the new approach and learn as we go.

- Collaborating, co-producing, co-owning, being a great partner.
- Accountability to role and team.
- Trusting and empowering each other.
- Hard on problems and supportive of people.
How we will work together

Within NHS England, some roles will increasingly focus on providing practical support to colleagues within systems. The table below outlines at a high-level how different parts of our organisation will function.

| National programme teams |
| NHS England programme teams will work with and through regional teams to: |
| • Co-create the evidence based strategy for transformation and improvement for their programme; |
| • Agree expectations on outcomes with and through regions; and |
| • Provide the subject matter expertise that systems can use to support implementation and provide intensive improvement support if needed. |

We are currently reviewing the national programmes that will form part of the new NHS England in order to streamline activities to ensure more effective coordination and interaction both across NHSE and with systems.

| NHS England corporate functions |
| Regions and programme teams will in turn be supported by NHS England corporate functions. |
| • These teams will set the overarching strategy, standards and incentives which enable the whole NHS to focus on its core priorities, ensuring support and guidance offered to the system is coherent. There will continue to be things that are best done ‘once’, such as ensuring the NHS has the staff it needs, modernising how we use technology and data to improve population health and access and NHS-wide campaigns. |
| • Internal corporate support will provide a range of internal advice and support services for the new NHS England, for example, communications and engagement, finance, commercial, governance and legal, HR, estates, corporate social responsibility, corporate IT and internal strategy. |

For both ICBs and their partner NHS providers, the primary relationship with NHS England will be through the relevant regional team. National teams will only work directly with ICBs and individual providers to request information or plans, or to offer or mandate support, by agreement with the relevant regional team (other than in exceptional circumstances).
4. Delivering our objectives

Our objectives

In order to deliver our purpose and value-add for the health and care system, we have set out on the right five transformational priorities for the medium-term (next 3-5 years). Agreeing medium-term transformational priorities represents a shift in how we operate and will enable us to focus on interim objectives to help frame and achieve our long-term goals. This will also enable us to more effectively address the challenges we face today.

1. STOP avoidable illness & intervene early
   I take responsibility for my own health and I am supported to stop myself becoming unwell whenever possible.

2. SHIFT to digital and community
   When I need it, I get the right care in the right place and I don’t have to wait too long.

3. SHARE the best
   I always get the best of the NHS wherever I am cared for – and I get good value for my money as a taxpayer.

4. STRENGTHEN the hands of the people we serve
   I am involved in all decisions about my treatment and care and am more in charge of my own health.

5. SUPPORT our local partners
   Everyone works together in my local community to make things better, with me in mind.

The medium-term priorities are underpinned by nine key enablers, which support delivery of each priority.
Each of the five medium-term, transformational priorities contribute to delivery of our urgent priorities and our long-term aims, as illustrated below. As part of embedding these priorities in our activities, measurable outcomes will be aligned to each so that we can monitor delivery over time.

Examples of actions we take to support urgent priorities
- 1. STOP avoidable illness & intervene early
  - I take responsibility for my own health and I am supported to stop myself becoming unwell whenever possible.
- 2. SHIFT to digital and community
  - When I need it, I get the right care in the right place and I don’t have to wait too long.
- 3. SHARE the best
  - I always get the best of the NHS wherever I am cared for and I get good value for my money as a taxpayer.
- 4. STRENGTHEN the hands of the people we serve
  - I am involved in all decisions about my treatment and care and am more in charge of my own health.
- 5. SUPPORT our local partners
  - Everyone works together in my local community to make things better, with me in mind.

Examples of actions we take to ensure we keep building towards the long-term
- 1. STOP avoidable illness & intervene early
  - Take action to avoid unnecessary illness and stop conditions escalating now. This should improve access to Urgent and Emergency Care services and outcomes for patients.
- 2. SHIFT to digital and community
  - Take action to decompress the acute system now, which should help release acute capacity to support improvements to patient flow.
- 3. SHARE the best
  - Take action to adapt and adopt best practice to improve consistency of care now.
- 4. STRENGTHEN the hands of the people we serve
  - Take action to provide patients with the information they need to choose the right care in the right place.
- 5. SUPPORT our local partners
  - Take action to ensure the successful establishment of new ICSs now.

Our required outcomes

Our six longer-term aims
- Longer healthy life expectancy
- Excellent access and experience
- Value for taxpayers’ money
- Excellent quality, safety and outcomes
- Equity of healthy life expectancy, quality, safety, outcomes, access and experience
- Support to society, economy and environment
5. How we will organise ourselves

Integration with our partners

- The proposed merger of NHS England, Health Education England and NHS Digital on 1 April 2023, provides a unique opportunity to create a ‘new’ NHS England, putting workforce, data, digital and technology at the heart of our plans to transform the NHS.

- This operating framework will be a key input into the design of the new combined organisation. The new NHS England change programme will seek to use the principles of the operating framework to ensure the new organisation maximises the potential of our move to system working; streamlining what we do nationally to give systems the space to lead and ensuring we focus our efforts on what we are uniquely placed to do at a national level. This will include being clear on interdependencies between regional and national functions in order to deliver our accountabilities.

- Part of our commitment in the creation of a new NHS England is to develop a new culture for the organisation, supported by a set of behaviours which we will co-develop and refine as part of the integration process.
At the top level, the proposed design for the new NHS England will integrate Health Education England and NHS Digital with the NHS England structure, with clear national, regional and internal accountabilities. The top level structure is shown below. Our regions will continue to hold the primary relationship with systems, supporting delivery of priorities locally as well as influencing national policy development by providing local context input.

6. Setting ourselves up for success

We have developed a common framework and discipline for how we approach change programmes in NHS England. As part of our development of the operating framework our Executive identified five components to ensure that these change programmes are successful. We engaged with stakeholders to refine this as part of the operating framework conversations. The output of this is outlined below. The impact of this approach is multiplicative, if one of the five components is zero then the net effect is zero. We will aim to consistently embed these into our change approaches in future.

7. Making this a reality

We have set out the foundations of our ways of working for the new NHS England; we now need to consistently embed these ways of working in all our activities and interactions.

There are a number of objectives that we will implement through the new NHS England change programme:

1. Doing what only we can do and focusing on how we deliver value
2. Adding value at the right place
3. Providing a single voice and clearer interactions with the system
4. Adapting ourselves to support the development of ICSs
5. A simpler and better coordinated organisation
6. Integrating the wisdom of frontline services in everything we do

It will take time to implement these changes and there will be a programme of work to support this over the coming years.
We have started a programme of work to enable us to deliver our immediate next steps and objectives as part of the new NHS England change programme. These actions will take place over the coming year ahead of the organisations coming together on 1 April 2023 to form the new NHS England, subject to Parliament’s approval of the necessary regulations.

Whilst the formal merger will take place on 1 April 2023, further work will continue into 2023/24 as we implement an organisation design programme to transform our ways of working.

This will enable us to add further detail to this document and to develop the operating framework for the new NHS England with Health Education England and NHS Digital, some of which we will start to put into practice before the merger date as we work closely together with our partners. Key amongst these will be in the development of the four high impact areas of cross-cutting design and a revised Executive governance meeting structure.

An Organisational Development and Transformation programme will be established to support this beyond the merger date, recognising these changes will take time.

We will evaluate this over time, collaboratively and in partnership with system leaders and stakeholders.
